FineToday Receives Gold Medal Sustainability Recognition from EcoVadis: Ranked Among Top 5% of the companies evaluated

FineToday Holdings Co., Ltd. (Head Office: Minato-ku, Tokyo; Representative Director, CEO: Tetsuo Komori) has been given a Gold Medal rating in the sustainability recognition level program run by EcoVadis SAS, headquartered in France. The Gold Medal is awarded to companies with a high sustainability score, specifically those in the top 5% of the companies evaluated.

Using its own evaluation criteria based on international sustainability standards, EcoVadis provides a highly trusted collaborative platform that comprehensively evaluates and monitors the sustainability of organizations and companies. The evaluation is performed in four areas: the environment, labor and human rights, ethics, and sustainable procurement. To date, EcoVadis has evaluated more than 100,000 companies in 175 countries and 200 industries. Many organizations refer to the evaluation results when selecting business partners.

In 2022, when the FineToday Group underwent this evaluation for the first time, it received a Silver Medal rating, placing the company in the top 25%. This year, only three years after the Group's founding, it received a Gold Medal rating.

The Group will continue to fulfill its purpose, namely, to enrich the lives of everyone today and for generations to come, one fine day at a time. It will do this by working to promote measures for the environment, society, and governance (ESG) as part of its business activities, while striving to continuously improve corporate value.
